More about Black History

Black History in the United States began when the first African indentured servants and enslaved people were brought west in the early seventeenth century. They were forced to do back-breaking labor on plantations and separated from their homes and families. Despite their unjust inferior status, they fought against Great Britain in the Revolutionary War, the War of 1812, and against the Confederate South in the Civil War. During the Civil War, the Emancipation Proclamation freed all those enslaved in Confederate states and territories. Then at the end of the

More about Native American

Native American tribes inhabited the Americas for centuries before European explorers claim to have discovered the "New World". Believed to have migrated east on the Bering Strait, these tribes spread throughout North and South America, establishing distinct cultures with rich traditions and customs. When Europeans arrived at the turn of the fifteenth-century, disease and advanced weaponry ravaged the native tribes. Colonists soon arrived and began to establish settlements that grew into towns and cities, further encroaching on Native American lands. Soon

DESCRIPTION

Over 58,000 names of those who died or were listed as missing in the Vietnam War are carved in the black granite memorial, which begins with the inscription: "In honor of the men and women of the Armed Forces of the United States who served in the Vietnam War. The names of those who gave their lives and of those who remain missing are inscribed in the order they were taken from us."

USS Arizona Memorial

Records: 1,208

People, Records, Places, Dates...

OVERVIEW VIEW DESCRIPTION

The USS Arizona Memorial is the most lasting reminder of the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor on December 7, 1941. It is a solemn tribute to the 1,177 men who perished with the ship. Explore the names on the wall and leave a story or photograph about any of the servicemen killed aboard the "Arizona" or during the attack on Pearl Harbor.
